In the "Jewish Advocate" of May 31, 1951, published in Boston, Massachusetts, a reference is made to the fact that the legal experts in America were studying the relationship between the Jewish Agency, World Zionist Executive and the Israeli Government in an effort to determine if the existence of the Jewish Agency should be continued. The article states that these legal experts felt that the charter of the Jewish Agency should be so drawn as to permit the participation of non-Zionists, but that they point out that it is imperative that the Agency function as a legal entity under the laws of Israel.

In connection with information reported above under date of May 31, 1951 in connection with the position of the Jewish Agency, it is to be noted that the legal experts have also suggested that the World Zionist Organization should retain its present form as a loosely bound, voluntary association not incorporated under the laws of any government.

N.Y. In an article by BORIS SMOLAR in the "Jewish Advocate" for June 14, 1951, it is pointed out that a resolution urging the inclusion of non-Zionists in the Jewish Agency may be presented at the World Zionist Congress. The article states that this is why some of the Zionist leaders, in requesting a charter from the Israel Government, are demanding it for the Jewish Agency and not for the World Zionist Organization.

A similar article by SMOLAR appearing in an issue of the "Jewish Advocate" published in July of 1951 reflects that some of the delegates to the Zionist Organization of American Convention wondered what happened to the recommendations made by the Rifkind Commission on the future program and constitution of the World Zionist Organization. The article points out that this report was approved by a Zionist Organization of America Convention two years prior and at that time, one of the recommendations dealt with the question of establishing cooperation between Zionists and non-Zionists in America.

NY 2-385

With regard to the securing of a charter from the Israel Government, the Zionist Organization of America Convention "made a substantial step backward." SMOLAR points out that originally, all leaders of the American Zionist groups requested that the World Zionist Organization be recognized by Israel as "the representative of the Jewish people" outside of the Jewish State, and they also stipulated that "no other public organization would be permitted to operate in Israel" without the prior consent of the World Zionist Executive. The article reflects that this would have meant that other groups with projects in Israel would become dependent upon the will of the Zionist Executive. In addition, the article points out that the Atlantic City resolution (of the Zionist Organization of America Convention) insists that the World Zionist Organization must possess special status in Israel and retain freedom of action "in its own proper spheres." It is pointed out that for legalistic reasons, the Israel Government would have to enter into an agreement with the Jewish Agency rather than with the World Zionist Organization, but it is also indicated that the opinion of the Zionist leaders is that the Jewish Agency can be wholly under the control of the World Zionist Organization and that the Executive of the latter named group could become the governing body of the Agency.

Another article in the June 14, 1951 edition of the "Jewish Advocate" deals with the annual convention of the Zionist Organization of America at Atlantic City at which it was pointed out that a group of prominent Zionists known as the Progressive Bloc is expected to present a resolution calling on the organization to divorce itself from the General Zionist Party in Israel and concern itself instead with Israel's financial, economic and spiritual needs.

Another article in this same edition, also dealing with the Zionist Organization of America Convention, pointed out that the top subject of debate on the eve of the gathering's opening was the role that the Zionist Organization of America should play on Israel's "political battlefield." The article points out that a strong pro Silver-Neumann showing is expected to urge all-out support for Israel's General Zionist Party, while a group of Progressives headed by veteran Zionists LOUIS LIPSKY, RUDOLPH SONNENBORN and others, would undoubtedly attempt to block this political thrust.

An article in this same publication by SIBYL ~~SOROKER~~, dated June 21, 1951, reflects that the delegates to the Zionist Organization of America Convention endorsed the General Zionist program in Israel by a large majority. It is pointed out that the Zionist Organization of America had been smarting and chaffing under the stinging words of Prime Minister DAVID BEN-GURION, uttered in New York when he said "Send us your children....give us your money....but do not interfere with the internal political affairs of the State of Israel."

An article which appeared in the September 15, 1948 issue of the "New York Times" which stated that Dr. EMANUEL ~~NEUMANN~~, the then President of the Zionist Organization of America, said that the recent session of the Actions Committee of the World Zionist Organization had made adjustments defining the tasks and functions of the World Zionist Organization and the Government of Israel. Dr. NEUMANN said that the Executive of the Zionist Organization has the immigration and colonization, dissemination of information, building of good will, and the stimulation of investment capital, "as well as other tasks that the Israeli Government assigns to it."

Of additional interest with reference to the Zionist Organization of America and Hadassah, the Women's Auxiliary of the Zionist Organization of America, it is to be noted that the American Zionist Youth Commission was also in session at the 54th annual convention of the Zionist Organization of America, at which time it was pointed out that this particular group had over 25,000 members. The purpose of the group is the developing and molding of an energetic Zionist youth within the Zionist family."

It is also to be noted that the "Jewish Advocate" for June 21, 1951 refers to the fact that the Jewish National Fund also had a session in conjunction with the Zionist Organization of America National Convention, at which time it was noted that the total income of the Jewish National Fund of America for the past year was $21,000,000, of which more than two and one-half million was derived from traditional collections and the balance from that organization's share in the United Jewish Appeal.

NY 2-385

The "American Zionist" issue of November 20, 1953 contains headlines, "ZOA IN ACTION: MOBILIZES PUBLIC OPINION FOR ISRAEL". Pertinent parts of this article appearing on pages one and two are quoted hereinafter:

"NAC SESSION ACTS ON NEW THREATS TO SECURITY OF ISRAEL

"The Extraordinary Session of the National ZOA Administrative Council, held at the Statler Hotel in New York on October 25, one of the most fervent Zionist gatherings in recent years, turned into a powerful demonstration of ZOA strength and vigor. Meeting for the second time within two weeks, the session, although called on short notice, was attended by over 400 Council members, presidents and leaders of regions and districts from almost all parts of the country.

"Summoned to deal with recent developments in U. S.-Israel relations that culminated in the State Department's temporary suspension of economic aid to Israel, the assembled ZOA leaders joined in expressing their sense of indignation and called upon the State Department 'to reconsider and to reverse its hasty and unfair action.'

"As American citizens', said the resolution adopted by acclamation, 'we deplore the use of economic pressure to coerce Israel into accepting the State Department's views prior to a United Nations decision. This is in direct violation of frequently stated American policy toward friendly nations.'

"The assembled ZOA leaders were determined upon a program of action designed to meet the current emergency as well as to avoid such situations in the future. They resolved to convert what was termed by the chairman of the meeting, ABRAHAM GOODMAN, 'as the crisis of crises' into a source of strength and rededication to Zion, with the pronounced goal to give the ZOA the numerical strength it had in the year of Israel's rebirth.

"The proceedings of the extraordinary session were keynoted in the major policy address delivered by Dr. EMANUEL NEUMANN and in a significant statement (read by MAX BRESSLER of Chicago) by Rabbi IRVING MILLER, which the president of the ZOA addressed to the meeting from his sickbed in New York Hospital. The meeting also heard a five point program of action and an analysis of the situation by Rabbi LEON FEUER, of Toledo, national chairman of the ZOA Commission on Israel and the Middle East.

① A factual account of the Israel situation was presented by AVRAHAM HARMAN, Israel Consul General in New York.

"NEUMANN WARNING

"Dr. NEUMANN, who together with Rabbi ABBA HILLES SILVER, of Cleveland, led the fight for Jewish statehood at the United Nations, warned in his address of the machination on the part of powerful anti-Israel forces who have long been at work in this country to destroy the traditional friendship and warm relationship which has grown up between the United States and Israel. He addressed a fervent call to friends of Israel and to all men of good will 'to rescue the fabric of American-Israel friendship from the malevolent hands intent upon tearing it to shreds.'

"Sharply criticizing the State Department for its recent anti-Israel policy, he said that it was appalling that 'our State Department should have blundered so badly in handling the Arab-Israel problem,' adding that 'someone seems to have sold them the gold-brick of Arab favor even at the price of ultimate sacrifice of our traditional friendship with Israel.'"

"Addressing the Emergency Session, Rabbi FEUER warned that the Zionist movement and its allies and friends 'must be prepared for a long and arduous campaign to bring our case before, and to win a favorable decision from, the bar of public opinion. This campaign will have to parallel closely, both in extent and in depth, the historic effort we waged to win the support of the American people and United States government for the establishment of the state of Israel.'

"For some time, those of us who have been concerning ourselves with public relations activity on behalf of the ZOA, Rabbi FEUER said, 'had been worried about disturbing signals indicating a subtle change in the Washington atmosphere surrounding America-Israel relations. We knew that the Arabs and their friends, including some of our old enemies in the State Department and elsewhere, were busily at work, with plenty of financial resources and political influence at their command, to undermine our country's traditional friendship for Israel.

"Without prejudging actual developments in Washington-for we had as yet no concrete evidence of an untoward change in policy-a few of us sought to alert our movement to possible danger and urged strongly that at the very least, we must be mobilized and prepared to meet whatever situation might develop. Basing our thinking on past experience, we are convinced, knowing how quickly the wheel of political fortune can turn, that Zionists must always take a sober and realistic view of the future.'

"Rabbi FEUER then stated the need for a broad and detailed program of public relations and education and presented a five point program, embracing the revitalization of the American Zionist Council, the expansion of the program of public relations activities on the level of local communities and the holding of briefing conferences under the auspices of the Commission on Israel and the Middle East, combining them with institutes on university campuses to counteract Arab anti-Israel propaganda.

"In conclusion, he voiced confidence 'that if we have the means and the opportunity to present our case fairly, squarely and courageously to the American people and through them to the leaders of American public opinion and to the makers of American policy, the verdict of justice and of history will be on our side.'" N.Y.

It is noted that Mr. ABRAHAM GOODMAN, Chairman of the ZOA Inner Committee in his talk before this Extraordinary Session of the Administrative Council, made reference to incidents which occurred recently in Israel and pointed out the necessity of enlightening the American people on the causes of recent incidents in Israel.

He said, "this process of enlightening public opinion, is once again the urgent task of the Zionist movement in general and the ZOA in particular. For no other group than ours possesses the potential man-power, the leadership and the ideological devotion needed for such an energetic task."

"This is an American task and it can best be done by those who performed so magnificently in a similar crisis only a few years ago."

The concluding paragraph of this article appearing on page two says, "Concluding his remarks on an optimistic note, the speaker voiced his belief that whatever else might come out of this critical situation, it will bring an end to defeatism and it will bring about the long delayed realization that Israel's existence and well-being will for many years depend upon a strong, vibrant Zionist movement in which the ZOA must assume its paramount and vital role. We have done it before, we will do it again!"

Another article appearing on pages one and three entitled, "ZIONISTS, ON GUARD!" states that Israel was under attack and that a barrage of anti-Israel propaganda had been unleashed by its enemies. The aim of this anti-Israel propaganda was to libel and besmirch the state of Israel and strangulate its economy and to jettison its future.

Paragraphs four, five, six and seven of this article are hereinafter quoted in full.

"In the current crisis, as in the past, the ZOA has measured up to the occasion. With the aid of its nationwide constituency, it has taken the lead in arousing public opinion to the falsehoods spread by the enemies of Israel. It has alerted all friends of Israel to the machinations of those in and out of government who seek to bend American policy in an anti-Israel direction. These forces, on the American and international scene, are well organized and heavily financed. They have powerful propaganda machinery at their disposal. There are also unfriendly forces in the State Department who would even overrule the President and the Secretary of State.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"American Zionists will not and must not let down their guard. The Zionist movement and all friends of Israel must be girded for a long and arduous campaign of public relations and enlightenment. Our task is far from over. Our duty as Americans and as Zionists is clear! We must do everything in our power to ensure that our government brings about a constructive and final solution to Middle East problems by working for peace between Israel and the Arab states.

"All of us in the ZOA carry a great responsibility. We have risen in defense of the state of Israel, to preserve the precious realization of 2,000 years of yearning and striving by an oppressed people. Its enemies have not yet reconciled themselves to its existence. Their designs will come to naught because we will spread the truth and proclaim from every housetop the justice of the cause of Zion.

"With the solemn pledge to stand by Israel, let us meet the new challenge by force of numbers and renewed dedication."

Page eight of the November 20, 1953 issue of the "American Zionist" sets forth the text of an undated cable to the former Israeli Prime Minister, DAVID BEN GURION, sent by Rabbi IRVING MILLER, President of the ZOA, in which he pledged, in behalf of ZOA, its "readiness to stand by Israel in her present economic and political emergencies."

The Zionist leader's cable to DAVID BEN GURION states, "Deeply regret my inability to attend the important Economic Conference in Jerusalem due to illness requiring hospitalization. I wish to assure you and all participants in the Conference of the readiness of the Zionist Organization of America to stand by Israel in its present economic and political emergencies. Our answer to the current assaults upon Israel must and will be the intensification and expansion of moral and material support."
